Mount McKinley in Alaska, is the highest mountain peak in North America, and measured base-to-peak, it is the tallest mountain on land. It's prominence stands as a testament to America's rugged outdoors.

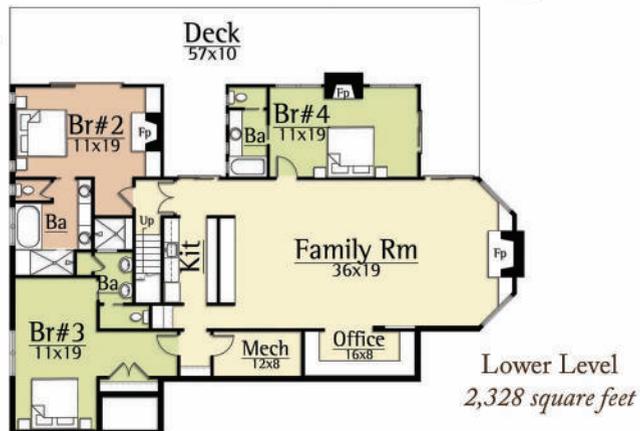

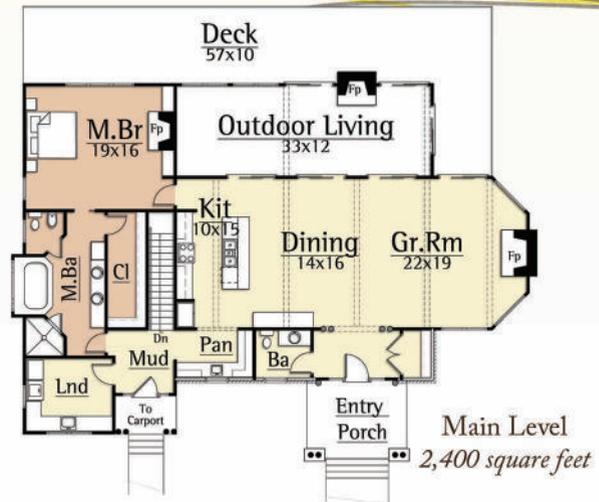

The McKinley by MossCreek also symbolizes America's rugged outdoors with an exterior of stone, timber, and glass.

On the inside, the McKinley features four complete bedroom suites. The open Dining /Great Room/ Kitchen plan is accented by a vaulted and timbered ceiling and a magnificent stone fireplace.

the McKinley is perfectly suited for family enjoyment in the great American outdoors.
